

Presentation of our Lord

January 29, 11:15 AM

Saint Luke Lutheran Church and School

The Presentation of Our Lord is referred to in some corners of the church as Candlemas because of an ancient tradition of blessing all the candles to be used in the church in the coming year at the mass celebrated on that day. It was a way of underscoring the truth of Simeon's confession that this baby Jesus was "a light for revelation to the Gentiles" and a light for glory to Israel. Let the light of every candle in church be a little epiphany of the love of God for all people in the person of God's son, Jesus, the light of the world.

WELCOME

CONFESSION AND FORGIVENESS

All may make the sign of the cross, the sign that is marked at baptism, as the presiding minister begins.

Blessed be the holy Trinity, ✠ one God, who makes all things new, whose mercy endures forever.
Amen.

Trusting in God's mercy, let us confess our sin.

Silence is kept for reflection.

Holy One, source of our renewal, we confess that we are wrapped up in sin, and cannot free ourselves. We have not practiced your righteousness. Our hearts have turned away from you. For the sake of the world you so love, forgive us, that we may be reconciled to one another for the glory of your holy name.
Amen.

Thus says our God: "The former things have come to pass and new things I now declare." God's mercy makes us new. We are forgiven in the name of ✠ Christ our Savior.
Amen.

PRAYER OF THE DAY

Let us pray.

Almighty and ever-living God, your only-begotten Son was presented this day in the temple. May we be presented to you with clean and pure hearts by the same Jesus Christ, our great high priest, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

Amen.

Please be seated.

WORD

FIRST READING

Malachi 3:1-4

This reading concludes a larger section (2:17—3:5) in which the prophet speaks of the coming of the God of justice. Malachi looks for that day when the wondrous power of God will purify the priestly descendants of Levi who minister in the temple at Jerusalem.

See, I am sending my messenger to prepare the way before me, and the Lord whom you seek will suddenly come to his temple. The messenger of the covenant in whom you delight—indeed, he is coming, says the Lord of hosts. But who can endure the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appears?

For he is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap; he will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he will purify the descendants of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, until they present offerings to the Lord in righteousness. Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem will be pleasing to the Lord as in the days of old and as in former years.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

PSALMODY

Psalm 84

The organ introduces the Antiphon. Please sing the 2nd time and where indicated. Sing all verses in bold.

How dear to me is your dwelling O [Lord] of hosts! *
My soul has a desire and longing for the courts of the Lord; ...
my heart and my flesh rejoice in the [liv]-ing God.
The sparrow has found her a house ...
and the swallow a nest where she may [lay] her young; *
by the side of your altars O Lord of hosts, ... my [King and] my God.
Happy are they who [dwell in] your house! *
they will [always] be praising you.
Happy are the people whose [strength is] in you! *
whose hearts are set on the [pil]-grims' way.

Antiphon

Those who go through the desolate valley will find it a [place] of springs, * for the early rains have covered it with [pools] of water.
They will climb from [height] to height, *
and the God of gods will reveal him-[self] in Zion.
Lord God of hosts [hear] my prayer; *
hearken O [God] of Jacob.
Behold our de-[fender] O God; *
and look upon the face of [your] Anointed.

Antiphon

How dear to me is your dwell - ing, O Lord.

tone: Nun Danket

For one day in your courts is better than a thousand in [my] own room, * and to stand at the threshold of the house of my God ...
than to dwell in the [tents of] the wicked.
For the Lord God is both [sun] and shield; *
he will give [grace] and glory;
No good thing will the [Lord] withhold * from those who [walk with] integrity.
O [Lord] of hosts, *
happy are they who put their [trust] in you!

Antiphon

SECOND READING

Hebrews 2:14-18

Jesus shared human nature fully so that his death might be for all humans a liberation from slavery to death's power. Here the writer uses the image of priestly service in the temple as a way of describing the life and saving death of the Lord Jesus. He is the high priest who offers his life on behalf of his brothers and sisters.

Since, therefore, the children share flesh and blood, [Jesus] himself likewise shared the same things, so that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by the fear of death. For it is clear that he did not come to help angels, but the descendants of Abraham. Therefore he had to become like his brothers and sisters in every respect, so that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make a sacrifice of atonement for the sins of the people. Because he himself was tested by what he suffered, he is able to help those who are being tested.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Al - le - lu - ia. Lord, to whom shall we go?

You have the words of e - ter - nal life. Al- le- lu - ia.

GOSPEL

Luke 2:22-40

The holy gospel according to Saint Luke, the second chapter.

Glory to you, O Lord.

This story is a study in contrasts: the infant Jesus with the aged prophets; the joy of birth with the ominous words of Simeon to Mary; the faithful fulfilling of the law with the presentation of the one who will release its hold over us. Through it all, we see the light of God's salvation revealed to the world.

When the time came for their purification according to the law of Moses, [Mary and Joseph] brought [Jesus] up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, “Every firstborn male shall be designated as holy to the Lord”), and they offered a sacrifice according to what is stated in the law of the Lord, “a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.”

Now there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; this man was righteous and devout, looking forward to the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit rested on him. It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord's Messiah. Guided by the Spirit, Simeon came into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him what was customary under the law, Simeon took him in his arms and praised God, saying,

“Master, now you are dismissing your servant in peace,
according to your word;
for my eyes have seen your salvation,
which you have prepared in the presence of all peoples,
a light for revelation to the Gentiles and for glory to your people Israel.”

And the child's father and mother were amazed at what was being said about him. Then Simeon blessed them and said to his mother Mary, “This child is destined for the falling and the rising of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be opposed so that the inner thoughts of many will be revealed—and a sword will pierce your own soul too.”

There was also a prophet, Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was of a great age, having lived with her husband seven years after her marriage, then as a widow to the age of eighty-four. She never left the temple but worshiped there with fasting and prayer night and day. At that moment she came, and began to praise God and to speak about the child to all who were looking for the redemption of Jerusalem.

When they had finished everything required by the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth. The child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom; and the favor of God was upon him.

The gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, O Christ.

APOSTLES' CREED

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.
I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried;
he descended to the dead.*
On the third day he rose again;
he ascended into heaven,
he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. Amen.

PRAYERS OF INTERCESSION

Called together to follow Jesus, we pray for the church, the world, and all in need.

After each portion of the prayers:

Merciful God,
receive our prayer.

The prayers conclude:

We bring to you our needs and hopes, O God, trusting your wisdom and power revealed in Christ crucified.
Amen.

PEACE

The peace of Christ be with you always.
And also with you.

Please be seated.

OFFERING PRAYER

Let us pray.

Liberating God, you break the bonds of injustice and let the oppressed go free. Receive these offerings in thanksgiving for all your works of merciful power, and shape us as people of your justice and freedom. You we magnify and adore, through Jesus our Savior, Amen.

GREAT THANKSGIVING

The Lord be with you.

And also with you.

Lift up your hears.

We lift them to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

It is right to give our thanks and praise.

It is indeed right and salutary that we should at all times and in all places offer thanks and praise to you, O Lord, holy Father, through Christ our Lord. Sharing our life, he lived among us to reveal your glory and love, that our darkness should give way to his own brilliant light. And so, with the Church on earth and the hosts of heaven, we praise your name and join their unending hymn:

Ho - ly, ho - ly, ho - ly Lord, Lord God of pow'r and might, heav-en and earth are full of your glo - ry. Ho - san - na in the high - est.
Bless - ed, bless - ed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Ho - san - na in the high - est.

Blessed are you, O holy God: you are the Life and Light of all. By your powerful word you created all things. Through the prophets you called your people to be a light to the nations. Blessed are you for Jesus, your Son. He is your Light, shining in our darkness and revealing to us your mercy and might.

In the night in which he was betrayed, our Lord Jesus took bread, and gave thanks; broke it, and gave it to his disciples, saying: Take and eat; this is my body, given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Again, after supper, he took the cup, gave thanks, and gave it for all to drink, saying: This cup is the new covenant in my blood, shed for you and for all people for the forgiveness of sin. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Remembering, therefore, his preaching and healing, his dying and rising, and his promise to come again, we await that day when all the universe will rejoice in your holy and life-giving light.

Christ has died. Christ is risen. Christ will come again.

By your Spirit bless us and this meal, that, refreshed with this heavenly food, we may be light for the world, revealing the brilliance of your Son.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Please pray in your own preferred language.

Gathered into one by the Holy Spirit, let us pray as Jesus taught us.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name,
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread;
and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
and the power, and the glory,
forever and ever. Amen.

Padre Nuestro, que estas en los cielos, santificado sea tu nombre,
venga a nosotros tu reino,
hagase tu voluntad,
asi en la tierra como en el cielo.
Danos hoy nuestro pan de cada dia;
perdona nuestras ofensas,
como nosotros perdonamos
a los que nos ofenden;
y no nos dejes caer en la tentacion,
mas libranos del mal.
Porque tuyo es el reino,
el poder, y la gloria,
por los siglos de los siglos. Amen

HYMN NOTES

In His Temple Now Behold Him

Henry J. Pye, c. 1825-1905

Pye wrote this hymn when he was the rector of Clifton-Campville in Staffordshire, England. He intended it for the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, what Lutherans celebrate as the Presentation of Our Lord.—ELW Hymnal Companion

Of the Father's Love Begotten

Marcus Aurelius Clemens Prudentius, 348-c. 413

This hymn was translated from Latin by John Mason Neale. It was later revised and a doxology was added by Henry Williams Baker for Hymns Ancient and Modern (1861). Though probably conceived as a devotional apology for the Christian faith, the hymn transcends controversy as one of the church's timeless texts. The whole creation from beginning to end, within a trinitarian orbit, sings to Christ the babe as Alpha and Omega.—ELW Hymnal Companion

What Child Is This

William C. Dix, 1837-1898

The three stanzas are taken from a longer poem, "The Manger Throne," written c. 1865 on Epiphany Day. After the author had read the Gospel for the day, Matthew 2:1-12. The tune GREENSLEEVES was already popular in 1580 when a license was granted to two different men on the same day for songs about Lady Green Sleeves. Twelve days later it appeared with a sacred text and has been a popular carol tune ever since.—Hymn Notes for Church Bulletins

In Peace and Joy I Now Depart

Martin Luther, 1483-1546

This is a metrical version of the Song of Simeon (Nunc Dimittis) from Luke 2:29-32. Luther's version was first published in Walter's Geistliche Gesangbüchlein (Wittenberg, 1524) between two Epiphany hymns, intended for the Presentation of Our Lord, and printed under the title "Simeon's Song of Praise." Later Luther included it for funerals in Joseph Klug's book of burial hymns.—ELW Hymnal Companion

MUSIC NOTES

Prelude: Fantasy on "Divinum Mysterium" - Gerre Hancock (1934-2012)

Dr. Gerre Hancock left an indelible mark on church music and the organ profession in America. Lauded for his skills as an organist, improviser, and choir trainer, his contributions as a composer have been somewhat overlooked in comparison. A request or commission usually was required to persuade him to commit ideas to paper. Apart from the early Air, all of the organ works were composed for specific occasions, people or anthologies. This body of music offers a window into the mind of this renowned improviser and teacher; his written work is remarkably consistent with his treatise on improvisation, Improvising: How to Master the Art, in its treatment of themes, harmonic language and musical style

Fantasy on Divinum Mysterium (1973) is Hancock's earliest extended work. It is a composition of great variety, progressing from the initial statement in the pedal with bold interjections, through a variation in canon at the third with double pedal accompaniment, a melismatic second variation over a pedal ostinato, a lively fugue, and finally a powerful toccata. The coda takes up the plainsong "Amen" and a final statement of the first phrase played by the right foot rings out over a tonic pedal, often the coup de grâce at the end of his improvisations.—Brian Harlow

Postlude: Processional II from Two Processionals—Robert J. Powell (b. 1932)

Powell is an American composer, organist, and choir director. He has composed in nearly all genres common to church music, including anthems, service music, hymn concertatos, organ music, music for handbell choir, and large-scale oratorios. This second processional is a very straightforward march in D Major following the form ABA. When the first section comes back, it is with thicker chords. The B section is registered a bit softer than the A sections.
